II. OTHER ACTIVITIES

1. Judging by [redacted] own impression of the reaction to his briefing sessions [redacted] and also by the amount which they asked him to do the trip served a useful purpose. He not only presented a series of formal briefings, but was asked by the Political Officer and others to review and comment upon papers which they were preparing concerning Communist developments in [redacted]. So far as [redacted] was able to determine there were no efforts at entrapment by [redacted] who treated him formally, but correctly. We have heard from WH, but have not seen the document, that [redacted] included some complimentary remarks about the briefings in one of his dispatchs.

2. I was asked last week by [redacted] to give a briefing on "International Communism" to a visiting [redacted] whom they had in tow. When the requesting memo arrived on Monday we noted that it included a request for some coverage of anti-Communist operations and that it apparently had not been coordinated with CI Staff or ICD. We pointed this out to the desk and suggested that the briefing be divided between SIC and ICD, to which the desk agreed. We alerted [redacted] and he, in turn, apparently called the desk and raised the roof for their having asked SIC rather than ICD to do the anti-Communist pitch. When everything simmered down I finally had two hours with the "Chief" yesterday afternoon and [redacted] had an additional hour.

will make at that time. I believe that this is the first time we have ever had a request from SR to review something which had been produced in SR.

4. This is probably the busiest week we have had in 1959. The Communist Party Organization and Operations course, with 18 students, is completing its final week. In addition, the Introduction to Communism, with 31 students, and the USSR - Basic Country Survey, with 10 students, began on Monday. It has quite literally been a "three-ring" circus!

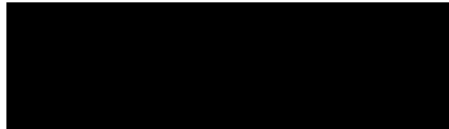

5. Tutorial Training:
